

SCAD TOWER SDT 40

Central elevator

NOTHIN BUT NET

A tall, green and white lattice tower, the SCAD Tower SDT 40, stands against a clear blue sky. The tower is a complex structure of interconnected beams. A central elevator car is visible, suspended from the top and moving down the tower. At the base of the tower, a large blue net is stretched across the width of the structure. A yellow banner with the text "NOTHIN BUT NET" is attached to the tower's frame just above the net. The overall scene is bright and clear.
